About SullivanMunce...

SullivanMunce Cultural Center, nestled in the village of Zionsville, is a unique community resource comprised of a collecting history museum, genealogy library, and an art center, whose mission is to enrich our community through the preservation, education, and appreciation of history and the arts. Since 1973, we have engaged visitors locally, nationally, and internationally in the culture of this region.

Patrick Henry Sullivan Museum

The Patrick Henry Sullivan Museum houses community archives and exhibition galleries that showcase permanent, temporary and traveling exhibits. The Museum is an important repository of the heritage of Zionsville, Boone County, and the State of Indiana; it safeguards and protects the important cultural ephemera of the citizens, businesses, organizations, and clubs of this area. We are responsible for the historic plaques in the area, the Century Structures program, and the Century Structures Walking Tour tour.

Munce Art Center

The Mary Elizabeth Munce Art Center exhibits and sells works of art from the local and regional community by holding numerous professional and community art exhibitions each year. The art center offers art instruction for students of all ages, summer camps for children 7 - 17, and workshops for professional artists.

Zionsville Genealogy Library

The Zionsville Genealogy Library is one of the largest private genealogy collections in the region with more than 4,000 volumes. The Library is an inviting place where one can spend an hour or a day reading and researching information from our unique holdings and online databases.

MY SUGAR PIE

A Slice of Happiness in Zionsville, Indiana

Nestled in the heart of Zionsville, Indiana, My Sugar Pie is a beloved gourmet pie bakery that has become a local and national sensation. Founded by Kelly Maucere in 2007, My Sugar Pie was born out of Kelly's love for baking and her desire to set a big goal after completing the Breast Cancer 3-Day Walk. "I had always enjoyed making pies in my free time. It relaxed me and made me think of my mom and being in the kitchen at home in Indiana," Kelly says. What began as a few pie orders each month has since blossomed into a thriving business, with thousands of pies ordered each month.

Known for its warm, homemade pies, My Sugar Pie's best-sellers include the irresistible Hoosier Sugar Cream Pie—which has earned national fame—and the Dutch Apple Pie, the pie that inspired Kelly to start the business. Their pies have earned accolades from across the country, including being named the #2 Best Pie Shop in America by USA Today in 2024 and being featured in People Magazine, Country Living, Food Network Magazine, and more.

With a wide variety of classic and unique pies, there's a little something for everyone. From fruit pies like rhubarb, blueberry, and peach to banana cream, butterscotch cream, pecan, pumpkin and more, My Sugar Pie has the sweet treat to fit your needs.

As a small-batch, woman-owned business, My Sugar Pie takes pride in its high-quality, handcrafted pies and commitment to the community. With its motto P.I.E. (Be Positive, Work In the moment, and Encourage others), the bakery has become a cornerstone of the Zionsville and Boone County area. "Boone County is supportive of small businesses," Kelly says, noting the significant contributions from local organizations like the Zionsville Chamber of Commerce and the Boone County Chamber of Commerce, which help to promote and connect local businesses.

My Sugar Pie is not only a local favorite but a well-known name in the world of gourmet pies, earning multiple accolades and even being featured on local TV stations for Pi Day (March 14) and National Pie Day (January 23). Whether you're visiting for the first time or have been a long-time fan, My Sugar Pie offers a delicious slice of happiness that will leave you craving more. As Kelly puts it, "Our mission is to spread PIE LOVE and happiness!"

Come taste the love and joy baked into every pie at My Sugar Pie, and experience what makes Zionsville and Boone County the perfect place to enjoy a sweet, homemade delight.

Fall, Christmas, and More

Explore Dull's Tree Farm's Seasonal Charm

Nestled in Thorntown, Indiana, Dull's Tree Farm offers a vibrant agritourism experience for visitors of all ages. Founded in 1985 as a way to diversify the Dull family commercial grain and livestock farm, Dull's Tree Farm has evolved into a beloved destination known for its Christmas trees, pumpkins, and a variety of seasonal activities that bring families together year after year.

Dull's Tree Farm hosts over 45 fun-filled activities each fall, including pumpkin picking, corn mazes, wagon rides, pumpkin cannon, and much more. Their playgrounds, slides, and activities for children ensure that there is always lots to do with the entire family. Fall time at Dull's also brings some of the best sweet treats around like their apple cider slushies and apple cider donuts.

During the holiday season, visitors can cut their own Christmas tree, sip hot cocoa by the fire, and make lasting memories with loved ones. Walk throughout the farm as you find the perfect holiday decor and gifts such as mugs, ornaments, garland, and handmade wreaths at their Wreath Barn. With many Christmas themed activities, it's the perfect way to spend the afternoon getting into the holiday spirit!

Dull's Tree Farm also offers farm tours and educational experiences that can be booked through their website. Schools and homeschool groups can get hands-on learning about a working tree and pumpkin farm, learning about the life cycle of a plant, and take a wagon ride through the farm to visit the pumpkin patch. Groups can also book a winter field trip and learn all about how they grow and care for trees and they produce clean air.

The epic Adult-Only Easter Egg Hunt is an amazing annual event that brings people from all over to participate in fun challenges and puzzles. Form a group and prepare for a mix of escape room and scavenger hunt as you use critical thinking and teamwork to gather eggs and win fun prizes.

If you're looking for a unique place to hold your next large group event, party, or corporate event, their re-stored 1800's barn is perfect for hosting gatherings. Their barn is heated and air conditioned with restrooms providing a comfortable gathering space.

From adult egg hunts and wreath decorating classes, to pumpkin picking and summer educational programs, there's always something exciting happening at Dull's. The farm has garnered attention in prestigious publications like Country Living, Indiana Prairie Farmer, and Christmas Trees Magazine for its exceptional offerings, earning multiple grand champion titles at the Indiana State Fair for their Christmas trees.

Dull's Tree Farm is more than just a seasonal getaway—it's a year-round celebration of Boone County's charm and community spirit. Whether you're exploring the farm with your family, picking pumpkins, or cutting your own Christmas tree, Dull's offers a warm, welcoming atmosphere that creates unforgettable experiences. Come visit, and be a part of the Dull's family tradition in Boone County!

Must-See Attractions

ADVANCE

Jawbone, 103 West Wall

The family-owned barbeque restaurant opened in 2019 serving slow-cooked barbeque meats. The menu includes “The 3rd Place Burger,” a recipe conceived by owner/operator Brad Thomas based on an entry he made to a competition prior to opening the restaurant. The menu consists of mouthwatering sandwiches including burgers, pulled pork, tenderloin, pork chop, chicken and chicken salad, and other fare for ravenous travelers including salads, quesadillas and wraps.

Radio Control Park, Nicely Street

Located inside Advance Community Park at the foot of Nicely Street, the Advance RC Raceway features compacted dirt and an elevated drivers stand to support RC racing enthusiasts. The track has a 4S battery limit. The track is a member track for Hoosiers RC racers club.

JAMESTOWN

Downtown Jamestown, U.S. 136 and Lebanon Street

Sitting in a quiet corner of Boone County, Jamestown’s small town charm sits in contrast to the clamoring of cars and big rigs just one mile away on I-74. A drive through the heart of downtown reveals a community with plenty of reasons to stop and visit, starting with the Jamestown Community Park at Main Street and Park Place. The park features new playground equipment, a shelter, seating and a soldiers memorial. Satisfy your hunger with a variety of fare from Main Street eateries, including Chabellas Cocina Mexicana & Bar, Achi’s Pancake House, Cochran’s Catering and Cakes and Pizza King. Find a perfect gift or something unique for yourself at Garden Gate Flower and Gift Shop and Pittsboro Candle Company. For those looking to enjoy the outdoors, Jamestown is home to Pleasant Acres Nature park, a family-friendly retreat with nature trails, and picnic tables.

LEBANON

Courthouse Square, downtown Lebanon

Located in the heart of Lebanon, the courthouse square is a true community gathering space surrounding the core of Boone County governmental operations. Built in 1911 and placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1986, the courthouse stands as the centerpiece of the square with its large limestone columns and distinctive stained-glass dome. The square surrounding the courthouse is reminiscent of a simpler time, with bustling streets dotted with unique shops, casual eateries, craft breweries and Hoosier-made specialty goods.

Boone County 4-H Fairgrounds

More than just a site for the annual county fair, the Boone County 4-H Fairgrounds, Located at Exit 138 of I-65, is home to a wide variety of year-round events, including car shows, dog shows, auctions. The fairgrounds also features a 1/5-mile clay oval raceway and rental facilities. The 2025 Boone County 4-H Fair is Sunday July 20 through Saturday July 26 and features the 4-H Parade of Champions, the 4-H livestock auction, the Miss Boone County contest, free nightly live entertainment, race track events and of course carnival rides and delicious fare from ice cream and shakes to Indiana-famous pork tenderloin sandwiches.

Alley-Oop!, 115 Courthouse Square

An alleyway across from the Boone County Courthouse pays homage to basketball in the City of Lebanon. "From the Cradle – The Story of Lebanon Basketball" is featured in this outdoor interactive exhibit, which highlights local Hoosier basketball legends between 1908 and 1990.

9/11 Memorial, 975 Lasley Dr.

A steel beam from the World Trade Center with the inscription "In memory of all lives lost on September 11, 2001" is located at Lebanon's memorial to the Sept. 11 attacks at Lebanon Fire Department Station 11.

THORNTOWN

Dulls Tree Farm, 1765 W. Blubaugh Ave.

Owners Tom and Kerry Dull first planted Scotch pines in 1985 at their historic 1800s farm. The result was Dulls Tree Farm, which has grown from a Christmas tree farm to an educational and agri-tourism destination. Events include an adult Easter Egg hunt in the spring; pumpkin harvest each fall; and Santa's workshop during the holidays. Information on family-friendly year-round events and activities can be found on their website, dullstreefarm.com.

Sugar Creek Art Center, 127 South Pearl Street

Housed in the E.R. Jaques Company, the art center was most notably a garment factory in its former years, producing pieces for companies such as JC Penny, Sears and Bobbie Brooks. The nonprofit Sugar Creek Art Center offers rented artist studios and events venues, and hosts exhibitions and art classes.

WHITESTOWN

Old downtown, Main and Pierce streets

Referred to as Whitestown's "legacy core," the crossroads was once a bustling railroad town. Today, old downtown Whitestown is small but mighty, with two restaurants, a pizzeria, a coffee café housed in an historic farmhouse, salons, a hiking trail, Whitestown American Legion Post 410, Whitestown Lions Club Community Park and small retail establishments.

Whitestown High School/Moontown, 345 S. Bowers St.

A craft brewery and restaurant, Moontown Brewing Company was once home to the Whitestown High School Panthers. Built in 1896, Whitestown High School closed in 1963 when the Whitestown school district merged with Lebanon. Over the years, the building was used for multiple endeavors, including a warehouse, a factory and even a small apartment complex. Moontown took over the site in 2017 following extensive renovations that included repurposing old pieces of the school into the brewpub's design. Artifacts from Whitestown High School, including photographs, yearbooks, programs and school sweaters, are on display at the brewery.

ZIONSVILLE

The Village, downtown Zionsville

Take a trip back in time down the brick Main Street in downtown Zionsville. The area is known to locals as The Village, set apart from other Indianapolis-area suburbs due to its historic downtown. The streetscape is dotted with historical plaques honoring the town's founding piece by piece, marking locations for the town's former weekly newspaper, saw mill, carriage and wagon manufacturer and churches. Some commercial and residential buildings along the half-mile stretch of brick road date as far back as 1850. The commercial portion of The Village is alive with charming restaurants featuring locally crafted spirits and cuisine, unique boutiques, cozy bookstores, galleries highlighting local talent, salons, cafés and breweries.

Hickory Hall Polo Club, 7551 E. 100 N.

Located north of Indiana State Road 32 just west of U.S. 421, Hickory Hall Polo Club has served Boone County for more than 20 years as a family-centered sporting venue that assists local charities while offering the enjoyment of the Sport of Kings. The polo club's home season runs mid-June through Early October.

Wedding Venues in Boone County

A Venue for Every Couple's Dream

BOUTIQUE-STYLE VENUES FOR INTIMATE WEDDINGS

For couples dreaming of a small, personalized wedding, Boone County has several charming boutique-style venues. These spaces are ideal for those who prioritize an intimate atmosphere and attention to detail. From historic homes with vintage charm to modern spaces with sleek, minimalist designs, these venues cater to guest lists ranging from just a few close friends and family members to mid-sized groups.

Many of these boutique venues offer all-inclusive packages, providing everything from on-site catering to décor, making the planning process effortless for couples. Their smaller scale also allows for unique touches, ensuring each wedding feels deeply personal and unforgettable.

EXPANSIVE VENUES FOR LARGER CELEBRATIONS

For those planning a grand celebration, Boone County boasts venues designed to accommodate larger guest lists. These spaces range from elegant ballrooms with crystal chandeliers to sprawling barns that combine rustic charm with modern conveniences. Couples looking to make a big impression can take advantage of expansive layouts, breathtaking backdrops and amenities such as large dance floors, staging areas for live music and ample parking for guests.

Many larger venues in the area also offer customizable packages, allowing couples to tailor their day to fit their vision. Whether it's a traditional ceremony and reception or a more contemporary celebration, these spaces provide the flexibility to make the day uniquely yours.

OUTDOOR VENUES WITH STUNNING VIEWS

Boone County's natural beauty makes it an excellent choice for outdoor weddings. From rolling fields and lush gardens to scenic vineyards and wooded areas, the county offers a range of options for couples who want to exchange vows under the open sky. Outdoor venues provide stunning photo opportunities, with sunsets over the countryside or a canopy of trees creating an unforgettable backdrop.

Many outdoor locations also feature amenities such as tents, gazebos, or pavilions to ensure the day runs smoothly, rain or shine. Couples can choose from casual settings for a relaxed gathering or more formal outdoor spaces with carefully curated landscaping and elegant features.

INDOOR VENUES FOR YEAR-ROUND COMFORT

For couples planning a wedding during the cooler months or who prefer a climate-controlled setting, Boone County has numerous indoor options. These range from traditional churches and historic buildings to contemporary event spaces with modern amenities. Indoor venues often provide versatile layouts, allowing for seamless transitions between the ceremony and reception.

A PERFECT BLEND OF OPTIONS

Don't forget to plan your stay, and that of the bridal party and family, in Boone County! Many lodging options are conveniently located just off I-65 and minutes from most venues. Do you need catering services, bridal jewelry, alterations, photography, cakes and wedding favors? Boone County businesses are ready to serve all of your bridal needs!

With its wide range of options and stunning surroundings, Boone County is a place where every couple can find their dream venue and create a wedding to remember.

Public Art

ADVANCE

JAMESTOWN

Welcome mural — The Town of Jamestown welcomes visitors at the crossroads of U.S. 136 and Lebanon Street with a picturesque portrait highlighting the town's roots as a railroad town and the first county seat of Boone County.

Park mural — Wrapped around the storage building at Jamestown Community Park on Main Street and Park Place is a whimsical mural of flowers in bloom. A bench in front of the mural makes it a perfect spot for a photo opportunity.

LEBANON

Abner Longley Park mural — Commemorating the total solar eclipse that passed through Boone County April 8, 2024, the playful artwork at the park at 1601 Longley Dr. features a person lazing in the grass wearing eclipse glasses taking in the celestial celebration.

Big-4 Rail Trail mural — Featuring a steam engine and brightly painted in black and gold, the trail mural spans the length where the trail passes under I-65. The mural sits just beyond the trailhead at Sam Ralston Road just south of Prairie Creek. Vibrant colors and a lunging tiger are prominently featured in a second Big-4 Rail Trail mural, painted by members of the Lebanon Youth Council.

Business murals — Proprietors of local establishments have created a delightful experience for passers-by with richly-hued murals on their properties, creating a trail of artistry that brightens the landscape. Works include a collection of blooms on Mounts Flowers and Gifts, 226 N. Lebanon St.; an array of decadent baked treats at Titus Bakery, 820 W. South St.; swaying sunflowers and bright geometric shapes at Royal Cleaners, 503 W. Main St.; vintage-inspired prismatic drawings at Pizza King, 525 Lafayette Ave.; Showcasing the history of Lebanon with the figure of a pioneer in the center, while scenes of rural and urban life are portrayed encircling the artwork is the city's only pointillism mural inside the lobby of the Key Bank Building mural, 127 W. Main St.; A vintage-inspired black and white flapper girl is featured on the 116 N. Lebanon St.; a restored classic mural advertising Trips' Meat Market and Lane & Brown hardware brings nostalgia to life in the alley adjacent to 1830 Chophouse, 111 W. Lebanon St. in the Courthouse Square; and Old Glory flowing next to a soaring eagle at JTR Tire Repair, 1506 W. South St.

Interstate artwork — Travelers in both directions on I-65 cannot pass through Lebanon without viewing the bright, bold panels that span the length of Indiana State Road 39 over the interstate, welcoming visitors with the simple words "Lebanon, Indiana."

Underpass bridge murals — Three painted scenes under the CSX rail line along South Street/Indiana State Road 32, Lafayette Avenue and Camp Street transform concrete into canvas. The South Street mural memorializes the city’s founding while welcoming visitors. The Lafayette Avenue mural delights with an underwater scene including a silhouette in an antique diving suit and a message in a bottle. Underneath Camp Street, passers-by will view a beautiful representation of some of Lebanon’s attractions, portrayed through a Starry Night lens.

THORNTOWN

Town Hall Mural — A vibrant mural showcasing the town center surrounded by golden fall leaves takes up the rear wall of town hall at 101 W. Main St.

WHITESTOWN

Trail mural — Painted in 2019 by artist Erin Quigley, the mural in Whitestown’s historic old downtown features a steam engine with the words “Whitestown Est. 1851” to highlight the town’s former location along the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway. The mural is located at the Big-4 Rail Trail trailhead on Main Street.

ZIONSVILLE

Big-4 Rail Trail murals — Murals along the pedestrian tunnels of the Big-4 Rail Trail under Oak Street and Mulberry Street were painted by Indianapolis muralist Blice Edwards. The magnificent works of art span the entire length of each tunnel, with the Oak Street mural depicting dahlia while the Mulberry Street tunnel mimics a hollowed-out log filled with creatures that call the trail home, from bees and frogs to raccoons and foxes and everything in between. The murals are just 1.5 miles apart, creating a must-see photo opportunity for trail enthusiasts. A 4,339-square-foot mural facing the trail at Zionsville Community Church was finished in 2024 specifically for trail-goers to enjoy.

Smile mural — A colorful collection of dahlias and zinnias painted by Indianapolis artist Megan Jefferson surrounds the words “Be the Reason Someone Smiles Today” on the Cripe Photography Building, 45 N. Main in Zionsville’s historic downtown Village.

Greetings from Zionsville — Painted in 2024, the greetings mural, painted by artist Linette Pedigo of Indianapolis at 295 S. Main St., welcomes visitors in Zionsville’s historic brick street downtown.

Lincoln mural — The 266-square foot Lincoln Mural at 90 Main St. honors the 16th president Abraham Lincoln, whose inauguration train in 1861 stopped at what is now Lincoln Park, across from the memorial. The mural was painted in 2019 by Indiana artist/muralist Koda Witsken.

Zionsville Road mural and sculpture — Located at the Zionsville Road Trailhead, 10230 Zionsville Rd., is the steel sculpture “Wingz” by Mark McGarvey. The sculpture’s two wings move with the wind. The site includes an interactive mural featuring Eagle Creek for unique photo opportunities.

Electric box art — Traffic control boxes at 106th Street and Zionsville Road and Main and Sycamore Streets invite visitors with dahlias and images of Zionsville.

Sidewalk art — The Zionsville Cultural District sponsors Sidewalk Art around Zionsville. The project features poems by young laureiates stamped into concrete for permanent display throughout Zionsville’s historic downtown Village.

Museums & Art Galleries

SULLIVANMUNCE CULTURAL CENTER, 225 W. HAWTHORNE ST., ZIONSVILLE

Established in 1973 as the Patrick Henry Sullivan Museum, SullivanMunce Cultural Center grew in 1981 to include a genealogy library and Munce Art Center. The center houses more than 8,000 items in its collection, including cultural documents, photographs, art and artifacts.

SUGAR CREEK ART CENTER, 127 SOUTH PEARL STREET, THORNTOWN

Housed in the E.R. Jaques Company, the art center was most notably a garment factory in its former years, producing pieces for companies such as JC Penny, Sears and Bobbie Brooks. The nonprofit Sugar Creek Art Center offers rented artist studios and events venues, and hosts exhibitions and art classes.

CV ART & FRAME, 110 S. MAIN ST., ZIONSVILLE

Specializing in sales, framing and restoration, the gallery also features art exhibitions year round.

THOMAS KINCADE GALLERY, 104 S. MAIN ST., ZIONSVILLE

The gallery features a collection of works from late American artist Thomas Kinkade, known as the "Painter of Light."

ART IN HAND, 211 S. MAIN ST., ZIONSVILLE

A co-operative art gallery owned, operated and staffed by a community of local artists.

THORNTOWN HERITAGE MUSEUM, 124 W. MAIN ST., THORNTOWN

Housed in a home built between 1863 and 1867 by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shipp, the Society for the Preservation of Our Indian Heritage received the property and converted it into a museum that was opened in September 1977. The museum was acquired by the Thorntown Public Library in 2009. The museum houses memorabilia, artifacts, photographs, curiosities and general day-to-day objects from the lives of the many inhabitants of Thorntown and the surrounding area.

Walking Man Sculptures

Keeping an eye on trail-goers and walkers throughout Boone County are six 10-foot tall sculptures dubbed “Walking Man.” The statues are the creation of artist Levi Rinker and were installed in 2016.

The public artwork was made possible by the Community Arts Endowment from the Community Foundation of Boone County. The displays invest in arts and culture in Boone County and present an opportunity for visitors to photograph the unique works of art while visiting the municipalities that make Boone County a great place to live, work and play.

Sculptures can be found at Pleasant Acres Nature Park in Jamestown; Central Christian Church Youth Learning Gardens in Lebanon; Sam Ralston Road Trailhead in Lebanon; Tom Johnson Memorial Park in Thorntown; at the Big-4 Rail Trail Main Street trailhead in Whitestown; and at Zionsville Town Hall at the Big-4 Rail Trail trailhead in Zionsville.

Crowns and Community

Miss Indiana Marks 20 Years in Zionsville

Miss Indiana Executive Director Aren Staiger knows the 20th anniversary of the competition in Zionsville will be special.

"We're fortunate to have a community that embraces us," Staiger said.

The competition, which is part of the Miss America organization, is held each June in the Star Bank Performing Arts Center.

"It's been a great partnership between us and the Lions Club," Staiger said. "They have been a partner with us from the very beginning, as far as providing volunteers and being a sponsor for us. The biggest economic impact we've had is we have so many incredible sponsors from the community."

Straiger said feeding at least 70 contestants is a difficult thing to do.

"We've been able to partner with several restaurants in the community," she said. "Amore has been a partner with us for a long time. Not only are we bringing the families of the contestants into the Zionsville area for the week but the families are making it out to the restaurants in Zionsville and shopping in Zionsville. That's been a great part of the week."

There is a downtown parade, featuring the contestants, on the final day of the competition. Staiger said that provides another possibility to explore the downtown area.

"It's a fun time for them to be out in the crowd," Staiger said. "We do autograph signings in the same area where the farmers market is."

In addition to the contestants, there is a Little Sisters program for girls ages 5-12 who come for the event.

Straiger, a Carmel resident, has been with the Miss Indiana program since it came to Zionsville in 2005.

Straiger said the Miss Fall Festival attracts Zionsville contestants.

"A lot of that brings them into the system and a lot have continued on," she said. "I know Sam Robbins is one who has been with the program for many years."

Discover Boone County Chief Executive Officer Allyson Gutwein said the annual competition is incredibly important to Zionsville and Boone County.

"This is a big part of our identity in our area having this organization having chosen Zionsville because of our fantastic performing arts center but their relationship with the Lions Club. It's nice to see visitors come to town who have never experienced this part of Indiana, really enjoy it and want to come back after the contest is over. It's such a great way to showcase our town."

Gutwein, a Zionsville resident, was formerly the Zionsville Chamber of Commerce executive director.

Gutwein said Discover Boone County has made a video of Miss Indiana Kalyn Melham to highlight the competition, the activities surrounding it and the community.

"We want to make sure people remember this is here, support the delegates and are going to participate in this process in the community," Gutwein said. "There is economic impact from people in the community staying in the area to support their delegates, then there is dining to florals to dress alterations. There are all kinds of ancillary services around the contest. We have robust resources for people coming in the area."

TOWN OF THORNTOWN

The quaint Town of Thorntown, IN, is nestled in the rural northwest corner of Boone County. The first permanent settlement at Thorntown was made in 1827. Thorntown was platted in 1831. Thorntown is the English translation for the name of a former Native American village located there.

The Thorntown Public Library, a Carnegie library, was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1986. The Library hosts many events for all ages throughout the year and also takes charge of the local Historical Museum.

Thorntown is also home to the Sugar Creek Art Center. The Art Center houses many artisans and hosts an artist display monthly.

The Big 4 Trail passes through the Town and includes The Lions Club Park/Shelter. The Tom Johnson Memorial Park sits on the south side of the Town with a playground and shelter houses for events. The park hosts little league events during the summer.

The Thorntown Park Department is growing and planning Future events such as a July 4th Bar-b-que and Holiday on Main in December. The local KPW organization sponsors an Easter Egg Hunt the day before Easter at the Tom Johnson Memorial Park, and sponsors a Halloween Parade/Costume Contest on October 31 each year. The Knights of Pythias organization is the sponsor of the well-known Festival of the Turning Leaves held the last full weekend of September.

While touring the Big 4 Trail or spending the day at the park, residents and visitors can relax and dine at one of the downtown dining establishments. Stookey's Restaurant is well known for their catfish and onion rings. JC Cocina is a popular eatery among the residents as well as the Pizza King.

The Town of Thorntown looks forward to having you visit!

Enjoy a hike — with a side of history — along the Big-4 Rail Trail

As its name suggests, the Big-4 Rail Trail was previously home to railroad tracks operated by the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway from 1852 to 1962. On May 1, 1865, the body of Abraham Lincoln traveled through central Indiana as the assassinated president returned through the rail corridor to Illinois for burial.

The tracks were fully removed in 1985. The trail provides more than 20 miles of paved surface and scenic views of urban landscapes and rural farmlands, perfect for walking, running or biking. The trail extends from the trailhead on Plum Street in Thorntown through Lebanon's Courthouse Square, picking up again in Whitestown at 575 E. and connecting for more than eight miles through Whitestown and Zionsville to its conclusion at the trailhead on Zionsville Road.

Historic references can be found throughout the trail, including a marker where the depot once stood in Zionsville and a plaque honoring Lincoln and Whitestown namesake U.S. Congressman Albert Smith White in Whitestown.

Trailhead parking and amenities are available at Zionsville Road Trailhead; Nancy Burton Trailhead; Zionsville Town Hall; American Legion Trail Crossing; Carter Station; Heritage Trail Park; downtown Whitestown; Sam Ralston Trailhead; and downtown Thorntown.

Discover Boone County Breathes New Life into Historic Pioneer Printing Building

In a landmark move to both preserve a piece of Lebanon's history and create a welcoming space for visitors, Discover Boone County has purchased the historic Pioneer Printing Building. Built in 1928, this century-old structure has been a prominent part of Lebanon's downtown landscape for nearly a century, and now it will serve as the new home for Boone County's tourism efforts.

The decision to acquire the Pioneer Printing Building was driven by a desire to honor the rich history of the structure while providing a modern, functional space for the growing needs of Discover Boone County. Great care and attention to detail have been taken to ensure that the building's original charm is preserved, while introducing updates that will make it an ideal destination for both locals and tourists alike.

"The Pioneer Printing Building has always been an important part of Lebanon's history," said a representative from Discover Boone County. "We wanted to ensure that, as we bring this building into the future, we stay true to the elegance and character that has made it such a beloved part of our community."

Visitors to the new office and meeting space will find elements of the old building thoughtfully preserved, such as the original brickwork, large windows, and the timeless charm of its architectural features. These details are complemented by new touches that nod to the building's storied past. Elegant finishes, historic photographs, and carefully chosen decor will create a space that feels both timeless and contemporary—a true reflection of Boone County's rich heritage and forward-thinking vision.

In addition to serving as Discover Boone County's headquarters, the building will offer a versatile meeting space designed to cater to visitors. Whether it's a business meeting, a collaborative work session, or a place for out-of-town groups to host an event, the space has been thoughtfully designed for flexibility. The welcoming, professional atmosphere will provide an ideal setting for visitors who need a productive environment while exploring the area.

The project's restoration has been a labor of love, and it's clear that Discover Boone County's commitment to preserving the integrity of the Pioneer Printing Building is just as strong as its dedication to the county's future. This new chapter for the building ensures that it will continue to serve the community for generations to come.

"We are excited to share this beautiful, historic building with the public and look forward to our grand opening later this year," said the representative. "We hope this space will become a central hub for all things Boone County, where both residents and visitors can come together to celebrate our history and look ahead to a bright future."

As the grand opening approaches, Discover Boone County is eager to welcome guests from near and far to explore the new space. This thoughtful restoration of the Pioneer Printing Building is a testament to the county's commitment to preserving its past while embracing the future—and it's just one more reason why Boone County is a destination worth discovering.
